

Do Virgins Taste Better?

Brobdingnagian Bards

G

Oh, a dragon has come to our village today.

C

D

We've asked him to leave, but he won't go away.

G

Now the King and he talked, they worked out a deal.

D

G

No homes will he burn and no crops will he steal.

G

But there is a big catch, we dislike it a bunch.

D

Twice a year he invites him a virgin to lunch.

G

Well, the King gave his word, so the deal we'll respect.

D

G

But we can't help but wonder and pause to reflect...

[chorus]

G

Do virgins taste better than those who are not?

D

Are they salty, or sweeter, more juicy or what?

G

Does he savour them slowly or swallow the lot?

D

G

Do virgins taste better than those who are not?

G

So, we'd like to be rid of him, many have tried.

D

But no one can get through his thick scaly hide.

G

We hope that some day some brave knight will come by.

D

G

'Cause we can't wait around 'til he's too fat to fly.

G

And we've found a solution, it works out so neat,

D

If he insists on nothing but virgins to eat

G

No more will our number ever grow small,

D

G

We'll simply make sure there's no virgins at all!

[chorus]

G

Do virgins taste better than those who are not?

D

Are they salty, or sweeter, more juicy or what?

G

Does he savour them slowly or swallow the lot?

D

G

Do virgins taste better than those who are not?

G

Do virgins taste better than those who are not?

D

Are they salty, or sweeter, more juicy or what?

G

Does he savour them slowly or swallow the lot?

D

G

Do virgins taste better than those who are not?
